Lit Drop

The Lit Drop requires that two volunteers drive to friendly houses (Democrats or left leaning independents) with addresses provided by LD 28. Once at a listed address, one of the volunteers will go to the home and tape a half page list of suggested democratic candidates on the garage doorframe using painter's tape. The volunteers then move on to the next house on the list and repeat the task.

There will be a volunteer training on a system called mini-Van which, if used as an app on your phone will give you directions to each of the homes on your list.

Dates: 9/16 to 10/9

Mailing of Voter's Guide

Volunteers address, stamp and stuff envelops with the Voter's Guide - down ballot information for democrats.

Materials are provided aa well as a list of voter names and addresses. These voters live in apartments or gated communities and are not part of the Lit Drop campaign.

This activity could be a fun way for a group of volunteers to take part in the election work without requiring physically active.

Dates: Sept. — Oct.

Poll Table Volunteer

Groups of volunteers will be set up at a table placed the appropriate distance from the polling place on voting days. The task is to give interested voters the Voter's Guide - down ballot information they might need for voting.

Dates: 10/9 - 11/5

Phone Bank

Volunteers will be trained in the use of the system before they begin their calling.

Callers will remind voters to turn in their ballot - no attempt to convince the voter about who to vote for but to simply be sure to vote.

Volunteers will need:

- A fully charged phone, a computer or tablet
- Be logged on a Wi-Fi network.
- The virtual phone bank login information.

Once you log, you will receive instructions to access the dialer and script which you can review ahead of dialing. When you begin, you will see the script and the name and phone number of the first person to call .

Dates: 10/16 - 11/5
